

Index

- Abstract Expressionism: early years of, 57-58; and the emotions, 60, 86-88; philosophic background of, 58-65; and existentialism, 62-65; and alienation, 63-65, 100-101; self-consciousness and, 64-65; and spirituality, 73-75; and technology, 73; the subject matter of, 77, 86; the materials of, 79, 95-97; the use of myth in, 81-86, 172 n.51; the role of individualism in, 88-89, 98-99; and ethics, 89; the pictorial space of, 89-93; and action, 93-94; and finish, 97-98; and politics, 98-99; and the museum, 101-102; the heritage of, 103-105; the reaction against, 127-128, 134, 135, 137, 145-146; and the Happening, 180-181 n.57
- Accident: in art of the sixties, 109-110, 149; Ad Reinhardt on, 140; and Jackson Pollock, 171-172 n.50; in art of the late sixties, 149-150. See also Automatism; Chance
- Action: in art, 15; Leo Stein on, 19; John Marin on, 23, 162 n.87; Robert Henri on, 31; art as, 31-33; as a mixture of art and life, 34-36; John Dewey on, 60-61; and Jackson Pollock, 71-87; as subject matter, 86-87; Harold Rosenberg on, 93-94; and Abstract Expressionism, 94; and the Happening, 104
- Albers, Josef: John Dewey's influence on, 58, 128-129; and Black Mountain College, 112; on alienation, 125; teaching career of, 127-128, 128-129; on reason, 130, 130-131; on the spiritual in art, 129-130; on seeing, 130, 182-183 n.7; on color, 130-131; Homage to the Square, 132
- Alienation, of the artist: in World War One, 13-14; in existentialism, 63-64; Abstract Expressionist attitudes toward, 100-101; and the artist, 125; Harold Rosenberg on, 125; in the Formalist tradition, 133; Ad Reinhardt on, 139-140; in art of the sixties, 181-182 n.83; Robert Rauschenberg on, 181-182 n.85
- American Abstract Artists, 40-42; between 1945 and 1960, 127-128
- American Artist's Congress fights Fascism, 28
- American art theory, 15-16
- Anonymity, in early 20th century artists, 13
- Apollinaire, Guillaume, on imitation, 4
- Armory Show, 18-19; as revolt against museums, 25
- Arp, Hans: attacks World War One, 7-8, 14
- Art and life: Robert Henri on, 17-18, as viewed by John Dewey, 34-36, 59-60; George Morris on, 41-42; Piet Mondrian on, 43-44; Surrealist opinion of, 55; Abstract Expressionist attitudes toward, 93; in context of the museum, 119-121; John Cage on, 110-112; in art of the sixties, 117-118; Josef Albers on, 128-129; Ad Reinhardt on, 140; in art of the late sixties, 150; Jim Dine on, 179-180 n.51
- Art and nature: distinctions between, criticized, 11; American artists' attitudes toward, 31. See also Nature
- Art criticism, attack upon, 9-10
- Art Front, and John Dewey, 58
- Artists' Union, during depression, 27
- Art of This Century. See Guggenheim, Peggy
- Association of American Painters and Sculptors, and the Armory Show, 18-19
- Automatism: Surrealist, 50-51; and Abstract Expressionism, 77-80; and Abstract Expressionist sculpture, 79; Josef Albers on, 130-131. See also Accident, Chance
- Baudelaire, Charles, on the status of the artist, 12
- Bauhaus: and the Gesamtkunstwerk, 10; as a community of artists, 12; and artistic anonymity, 13; ideas of, at Black Mountain College, 112-114; tradition in U.S. after World War Two,

- 127, 128-130, 131-133; in America, 163 n.2
- Bauhaus, New. See New Bauhaus, Chicago
- Baziotes, William: and Surrealism, 57-58; on Surrealist automatism, 79-80; on materials, 80
- Beauty: as seen by American artists, 31; the Abstract Expressionists' attack on, 73; Abstract Expressionist ideas about, 88; John Cage's attacks on, 110-111; and materials of the sixties, 121-122; Robert Henri on, 162 n.82
- Beckmann, Max: flight from Nazi Germany, 8; and World War One, 14
- Benton, Thomas H.: rebellion against European tradition, 15; conservatism of, 15-16; on American subjects, 21; on primitive art, 23; on intellectualism, 23; on museums, 25; and socialism, 27; and mural painting, 29-30, 34, 161 n.74; and the social purpose of art, 30-31; on American urban life, 34; History of Missouri, 35; and John Dewey, 61-62; on Jackson Pollock, 94-95
- Bergson, Henri: and intuition, 1; on the importance of artists, 12
- Black Mountain College, 112-115; and Robert Rauschenberg, 103-104; the association of John Cage with, 110; Josef Albers at, 125, 128-129; poetry at, 179 n.35; and John Dewey, 182 n.1
- Boccioni, Umberto: and the art of environment, 10-11; and new materials, 11
- Braque, Georges: and hermetic Cubism, 2; and public recognition, 12; and artistic anonymity, 13
- Breton, Andre: Second Surrealist Manifesto, 6, 50-51; on art criticism, 9; on automatism, 51; on Surrealist use of myth, 51-52; and the Abstract Expressionists, 57
- Brooks, James, on the unknown in painting, 79-80
- die Brücke*, as an artists' community, 12
- Brutism, as return to nature, 6
- Burchfield, Charles: and the Dada spirit, 24-25; on politics, 27; and individualism, 30; on art education, 157 n.10
- Cage, John: and the 'Club', 62; the aesthetic theories of, 109-112; and Robert Motherwell, 109-110; and Black Mountain College, 112, 114-115; and the Happening, 116; on art and life, 117; on beauty, 121-122; on objects, 122, 181 n.68
- Cahill, Holger, tolerance of subject matter, 28-29
- Calas, Nicholas, on Surrealist space, 54
- Camera Work*, and Wassily Kandinsky, 16
- Canvas, monumental, 15-16, 103, 105; 1920-40, 33-34; Thomas H. Benton on, 34; in Abstract Expressionism, 90-93; Mark Rothko on, 174 n.90; Jackson Pollock on, 174
- Channing, William Henry, "On National Literature," 16
- Chance: John Cage on, 111; Josef Albers on, 131. See also Accident; Automatism
- Children's art: and return to simplicity, 6-7; and Max Weber, 23
- 'Club': the, 62-63, 168 n.20; and Hans Hofmann, 38; and John Cage, 109-110
- Collage: in Cubism, 11; in United States, 24; Robert Motherwell on, 69; Jackson Pollock's use of, 96; use of, in art of the sixties, 108; American artist's use of, 160 n.56
- Communities, artists': in the early twentieth century, 12; Abstract Expressionist ideas about, 89, 100-101; at Black Mountain College, 112-115, 129
- Comte, Auguste, materialism of, 1
- Conceptual art, 149-150
- Constructivism, and Abstract Expressionism, 68, 75-76
- Courbet, Gustave, exponent of realism, 1
- Cox, Kenyon, on the Armory Show, 19
- Cubism: the unintelligibility of, 2, 12-13; the eternalizing nature of, 3; and World War One, 8; exhibitions of, 9; materials of, 11; and Abstract Expressionism, 67-68; and the criticism of Clement Greenberg, 145-146
- Cunningham, Merce: at Black Mountain College, 112, 114; role in 'first Happening', 115
- Dada: the anti-spiritual attitude of, 3; rejection of art, 3; and anti-rationalism, 5-6; reaction to World War One, 8, 101; and artists' communities, 12; and the absurd, 14, 157 n.65; influence in America, 24-25, 37, 160 n.56, 163 n.1; in post-fifties art, 108
- Dada Painters and Poets*, 108, 109
- David, Jacques Louis, and the French Revolution, 7
- Davies, Arthur B., and Armory Show, 18
- Davis, Stuart: on Robert Henri, 16-17; on art education, 17; on importance of abstraction, 21; on realism and

- abstraction, 22; on museums, 25; on the Artists' Union, 28; attacks on regionalism, 30; on 'color-space', 33-34; on American pictorial rhythms, 33-34; and American Abstract Artists, 40; on influence of Fernand Léger, 47; and Arshile Gorky, 75; Ad Reinhardt on, 139-140; on symbols, 159 n.44
- Decalcomania, Max Ernst's use of, 47-50
- de Casseres, Benjamin: introduction to Max Weber's Primitives, 23; on modern art, 24
- de Kooning, Willem: and American Abstract Artists, 40; figurative subjects of, 71; on the spiritual in art, 73; on geometry, 75-76; Women, 82-84; the subject matter of, 86; and the monumental canvas, 93; and materials, 95-96; and finish; and Robert Rauschenberg, 103
- Delaunay, Robert: spiritual attitudes of, 2; Windows, 153 n.6
- Denis, Maurice, on pictorial space, 69
- Depression, artists' response to, 27-29
- Dewey, John: and Thomas H. Benton, 34, 61-62; Art as Experience, 58-62; and Abstract Expressionism, 58-62; on experience, 58-59; defines aesthetic experience, 59; on the emotions, 60; and Black Mountain College, 128-129, 182 n.1; and earth sculpture, 150
- de Zayas, Marius, and American Dada, 24
- Dine, Jim, on art and life, 180 n.51
- Dove, Arthur: on working from nature, 21-22; use of collage, 24; Hand Sewing Machine, 26; on politics, 27
- Dream, role of, in Abstract Expressionist art, 67-68
- Drip technique: Pollock's use of, 96; Max Ernst and, 96; Mark Tobey and, 96; Joan Miro and, 96
- Duchamp, Marcel: in United States, 24; Roberto Matta on, 54; influence in fifties, 108-109; and art of the sixties, 123; the ready-mades of, 123-124; exhibitions of, 178 n.14
- Earth sculpture, 149-150
- Echaurren, Roberto Matta. See Matta, Roberto
- "Eleven Europeans in America," interviews of European emigre artists, 44-50
- Emerson, Ralph Waldo, "The American Scholar," 16
- Emotion: as replacement for imitation, 5; and nonobjective art, 5; Piet Mondrian on, 42-43; John Dewey on, 60; in Abstract Expressionism, 67, 82, 85-88, 103, 104; post-fifties attitude toward, 106; Josef Albers on, 130-131; Barnett Newman on, 137; Ad Reinhardt on, 141-142; and reason, 148-151
- Environment, art of, Piet Mondrian and, 44
- Ernst, Max: on artist's role in creation, 13; on the American landscape, 47-50; Napoleon in the Wilderness, 49
- Ethics, the Abstract Expressionists' concern for, 89
- Exhibition of Independent Artists (1910), and Armory Show, 18
- Existentialism: and Abstract Expressionism, 62-65; and Abstract Expressionist pictorial space, 90
- Expressionism, exhibitions of, 9; influence on Abstract Expressionism, 73
- Fauvism, in reaction to World War One, 14. See also Salon d'Automne
- Federal Art Project, 28-29
- Ferren, John, on art as discovery, 64
- Finish: American attitudes toward, 24-25; Abstract Expressionist conception of, 95, 97-98
- Frame: Piet Mondrian and, 43, 165 n.28; Surrealist attitude toward, 54-55; in Abstract Expressionism, 90-91, 93; in work after Jackson Pollock, 105; concept of, in the sixties, 120
- Fried, Michael, "Art and Objecthood," 147
- Gabo, Naum: and Marxism, 8; on nature, 154 n.18
- Geometry, in Abstract Expressionism, 75-76
- Gesamtkunstwerk*, 10-11; at Black Mountain College, 114-115; in the sixties, 115-116. See also Happening
- Glackens, William, reaction to Armory Show, 18-19
- Gleizes, Albert, on public recognition, 12-13
- Goldwater, Robert, on Clement Greenberg, 146
- Gorky, Arshile: and American Abstract Artists, 40; and André Breton, 57; on spirituality, 75; as Abstract Expressionist, 74-75; and Stuart Davis, 75, 90; and Surrealism, 171 n.39
- Gottlieb, Adolph: and early Abstract Expressionism, 58; the "pictographs" of, 84; on pictorial space, 90; on New York, 95; on Abstract Expressionist

- subject matter, 99
- Greenberg, Clement: on Abstract Expressionism and existentialism, 63; on beauty and Jackson Pollock, 87-88, 95; on the size of Jackson Pollock's canvases, 91-93, on the artist and society, 99; at Black Mountain College, 128; on Pop Art, 147-148; and the development of Formalism, 145; reacts against Abstract Expressionism, 145-146; as defender of Formalism, 145-147
- Greene, Balcomb, on Fernand Léger, 41
- Gregg, F.I., on the Armory Show, 19
- Grooms, Red, and the Happening, 116
- Gris, Juan, and primitive art, 6
- Gropius, Walter: and the 'complete building,' 10; as founder of the Bauhaus, 35; and artistic anonymity, 13
- Guggenheim, Peggy: and Art of This Century, 55, 57, 102; and Max Ernst, 47-50; and Jackson Pollock, 91, 96
- Guston, Philip: on finish, 97-98; on pathos, 100
- Gutai Group, shown at Martha Jackson Gallery, 108-109
- Happening, the, 115-116; and Jackson Pollock, 104; origins of, 109, 179 n.42; as formulated by Allan Kaprow, 117-118, 177 n.4; and sculpture, 118-119; and the museum, 120; use of materials in, 121; and seeing, 122-123; and Pop Art, 147; consequences of, 148-149; and Abstract Expressionism, 180 n.57
- Hare, David, on loneliness, 100-101
- Hartley, Marsden: and Wassily Kandinsky, 20; on spirituality, 20; on the return to naturalism, 22; and Albert P. Ryder, 22; and Tristan Tzara, 24; on role of art criticism, 25; defines painting as action, 36
- Hayakawa, S.I., and the philosophy of language, 183 n.23
- Heidegger, Martin, and Abstract Expressionism, 62
- Heizer, Michael, and earth sculpture, 150
- Helion, Jean: in America, 40-41; on naturalism, 44-45
- Henri, Robert: students of, 16-17; and transcendentalism, 16-18, and Emerson, 17-18; and Walt Whitman, 17; on art education, 17; The Art Spirit, 17-18; and Baroque art, 17-18; on imitation, 21; on working from memory, 21-22, 159 n.34; on materials, 23; on finish, 24-25; and Armory Show, 25; on museums, 25; on political involvement, 27; and individualism, 25, 30, 157 n.5, 157 n.7; on beauty, 31, 162 n.82; on action, 31, 34-36; on art and life, 34-36
- Hofmann, Hans: teaching in America, 38; and German Expressionism, 38-40; Isle and Couch, 39; on the pictorial plane, 38-40; on pictorial motion, 40; students of, 163 n.3
- Holmes, Oliver Wendell, and Ralph Waldo Emerson, 16
- Holtzman, Harry, and Piet Mondrian, 40-41
- Hopper, Edward: and individualism, 30-31; on pictorial space, 83; on American scene painting, 33
- Hülsebeck, Richard: attack on Expressionism, 3, 153 n.10; and brutism, 6; and F.T. Marinetti, 154 n.23; on politics, 155 n.34
- Illumination, American, European responses to, 45
- Imitation, theories of: in early twentieth century art, 3-5; and withdrawal from the world, 4-5; Piet Mondrian on, 42; in Abstract Expressionist art, 67-73; John Cage on, 110-111. See also Emotions
- Impressionism: subjective nature of, 1; apolitical attitude of, 7; and revolt against the Salon, 9; relationship to Armory Show, 18
- Indian art, Surrealist use of, 52
- Individualism: American, 17; and the American artist, 17-18, 30-31; and the 'Club', 62; and Abstract Expressionism, 64, 88-89, 98-99; Josef Albers on, 129; and Robert Henri, 157 n.5, 157 n.7
- Institute of Design, Chicago. See New Bauhaus, Chicago
- Janis, Sidney: on Surrealist automatism, 77; 1953 exhibition of Dada, 108-109
- Johns, Jasper: on Marcel Duchamp, 108, 119; on seeing, 122; on objects, 123-124, 181 n.82
- Jung, C.G.: and Surrealism, 52-53; the psychology of, in Abstract Expressionism, 82-86; and the unconscious, 166 n.52
- Kahnweiler, Daniel-Henry, and Zeitgeist of Cubism, 2
- Kandinsky, Wassily: and materialism, 1, and Zeitgeist, 1; Über das Geistige in der

- Kunst*, 1-2, 20; role of nature in art, 3-4; and mystical vision, 4; and Der Gelke Klange, 10; and synesthesia, 10; response to World War One, 13; and music, 13; and Hans Hofmann, 38-40; and Abstract Expressionism, 67; and the ideas of Josef Albers, 129; the influence of, in New York, 168 n.1
- Kaprow, Allan: the theatrical art of, 104; "Legacy of Jackson Pollock," 104; the influence of Jackson Pollock on, 105; and the Happening, 109, 115-116, 177 n.4; and John Cage, 110; on art and life, 117-118; 18 Happenings in 6 Parts, 115-116, 120-121; on use of materials, 120-121; on seeing, 122-123; on politics, 125-126; and conceptual art, 150
- Kepes, Gyorgy: in the United States, 131, 133-135; Metaphor, 136; on reason, 135; on technology, 135, 183-184 n.23
- Kierkegaard, Soren, and Abstract Expressionism, 62-63
- Kiesler, Frederick, J., on Art of This Century, 55
- Klee, Paul, on artistic anonymity, 13
- Kosuth, Joseph, on Clement Greenberg, 147
- Kozloff, Max, and Clement Greenberg, 146
- Kramer, Hilton, on Clement Greenberg, 146
- Kwakiutl Indians, and Abstract Expressionist use of myth, 81
- Lassaw, Ibram, on mysticism, 74
- Léger, Fernand: in America, 40-41; on light in America, 45; on urban America, 45-47; Three Musicians, 48, on American space, 47
- LeWitt, Sol, on reason, 149
- Levy, Julian, as proponent of Surrealism, 50
- Lippold, Richard: and John Cage, 111-112; on seeing, 111-112; on imitation, 111-112; Variation Number 7, Full Moon, 113
- Lipton, Seymour: on automatism in sculpture, 79; the subject matter of, 82; Sanctuary, 83
- Louis, Morris, at Black Mountain College, 128
- Macbeth, William, shows works of 'The Eight,' 25
- Macdonald-Wright, Stanton, and non-objective painting, 21-22
- Malevich, Kasimir, and imitation, 4
- Marin, John: on reason, 23; on large canvases, 33; on motion in art, 33; and use of line, 36; on art education, 157 n.10; on symbols, 159 n.44; on action, 160 n.51, 162 n.87
- Marinetti, F.T.: poetry of, 3; and reason, 91; glorifies war, 7; and Mussolini, 7-8; and destruction of museums, 9-10; and Richard Hülsenbeck, 153-154 n.23
- Masson, André: on American space, 47; and automatism, 51; cover design for Minotaure, 53; and myth, 53
- Materialism: philosophy of, 1-2; and origins of abstraction, 2; American artists' attitudes toward, 20; Hans Hofmann attacks, 38
- Materials, new: artists' use of, 11, 23-25; John Marin on, 23; Abstract Expressionist use of, 79-80, 95-97; sculpture and, 79, 96-97; of the art of environment, 106; the impermanence of, 120; use of in the sixties, 121-122, 149-150; and David Smith's use of steel, 137-139; in Formalism, 146; Grant Wood on, 160 n.57
- Mather, F.J., on the Armory Show, 19
- Matisse, Henri, and World War One, 7-8
- Matta, Roberto: and Surrealism, 53-54; "Psychological Morphologies" of, 53-54; Duchamp's Glass, 54; on pictorial space, 53-54; and early Abstract Expressionism, 57; and John Dewey, 58; on automatism, 79
- Meidner, Ludwig, An Alle Künstler, 8
- Memory, working from, 21-22
- Metzinger, Jean, and public recognition, 12-13
- Minimal art, Ad Reinhardt and, 141
- Minotaure*, and Surrealism, 52-53
- Miro, Joan, and different materials, 11
- Modern Artists in America*: on finish, 97-98; on loneliness, 100-101
- Modernism, defined, 146. See also Formalism
- Moholy-Nagy, Laszlo: teaching career of, 127-128; in the United States, 131-133; Light-Space Modulator, 134
- Mondrian, Piet: and structure of art, 4; and abstracting from nature, 5; and environmental art, 11; and public response, 13; and American Abstract Artists, 40-41, 42; Plastic Art and Pure Plastic Art, 42; the art theory of, 42-44; on the emotions, 42-43; on reason, 42-43; on science, 42-43; on pictorial space, 43; on painting as object, 43; and Abstract

- Expressionism, 75-77, 86-87; and purity, 75-77; Broadway Boogie Woogie, 76; the principles of, Ad Reinhardt's treatment of, 141-142; on the frame, 165 n.28
- Morris, George L.K.: as editor of Partisan Review, 28, 41-42; political views of, 41-42; on Piet Mondrian's frames, 43-44
- Morris, Robert, and earth sculpture, 150
- Morris, William, on artist's status, 12
- Motherwell, Robert: and Surrealism, 57-58, 167 n.1; and ideas of John Dewey, 58; the existentialism of, 62; on the role of nature in art, 69; on use of symbols, 71; Spanish Elegies, 71; Pancho Villa, Dead or Alive, 71; on German Expressionism, 73; and reason, 76; Spanish Prison (Window), 78; on Piet Mondrian, 86-87, 170 n.36; on the ethics of painting, 89; on action, 94; on American qualities in art, 94-95; and use of collage, 96; on politics, 98-99; on individualism, 99; as editor of Dada Painters and Poets, 108-109; on accident, 109-110; and John Cage, 109-110; and de Chirico, 170 n.36
- Munch, Edvard: on art and nature, 4
- Mural painting, during W.P.A., 28-29
- Museum: criticism of, 9-11; at turn of century in America, 24-27; Surrealist attitude toward, 54-55; John Dewey on, 60-61; the Abstract Expressionist regard for, 101-102; John Cage on, 111-112; Richard Lippold on, 111-112; in the art of the sixties, 119-121, 149-150; Claes Oldenburg and, 124; Ad Reinhardt on, 140; the reaction against, 179 n.33
- Music: and abstract art, 13, 21; and Abstract Expressionism, 71-73
- Myers, Jerome, on Arthur B. Davies, 18
- Mysticism, and Abstract Expressionism, 74
- Myth: and Surrealism, 51-53; and Abstract Expressionism, 80-86, 172 n.51; Mark Rothko on, 84; in work of Clyfford Still, 172 n.52; and Barnett Newman, 172 n.54; Jackson Pollock's use of, 173 n.64
- National Academy of Design: and Armory Show, 18; and exhibitions, 25
- Nature: as inspiration, 69; the role of in Abstract Expressionism, 73-74, 82. See also Art and nature
- New Bauhaus, Chicago, 131-135
- Newman, Barnett: defines 'Thought-Complex,' 68; Euclidian Abyss, 70; and geometry, 75-76; and influence of primitive art on, 81, 100; on American qualities in art, 94-95; on artistic community, 100; the post-Abstract Expressionist ideas of, 135-139; on myth, 172 n.54
- Newton, Sir Isaac, and absolute time and space, 5-6
- New York Dada*, 23
- Nietzsche, Friedrich: and intuition, 1; on the importance of artists, 12
- Noguchi, Isamu, on contemporary sculpture, 150
- Noland, Kenneth: at Black Mountain College, 128; and Clement Greenberg, 146
- Nolde, Emil: religious attitudes of, 2-3; and artistic freedom, 7; and peasants, 12
- Novembergruppe*: political hostility of, 8; and anxiety of World War One, 13-14
- Object, painting as, 43, 68, 125, 164 n.27; use of, in the sixties, 104, 105-106, 122, 123-125, 181 n.76; Surrealism and, 166 n.48; John Cage on, 181 n.68; Jasper Johns on, 181 n.82
- Oldenburg, Claes, on pictorial space, 105; the use of objects by, 109-110, 123-124; and the Happening, 116; conception of pictorial space of, 119; on the museum, 120; the soft sculptures of, 121; The Store, 124
- Olson, Charles, at Black Mountain College, 114-115, 179 n.35
- Orozco, Jose Clemente, murals for the New School, 29-30
- Paalen, Wolfgang: and the Surrealist unconscious, 52; and John Dewey, 58
- Participation, audience: and Duchamp, 54; in the Happening, 120; in sculpture of the late sixties, 148-149
- Partisan Review*, 28
- Pavia, Philip, and the 'Club', 62
- Pechstein, Max, An Alle Kunstler, 8
- Péret, Benjamin, use of pre-Columbian sources, 52
- Photo-Secession Gallery, attitudes stimulated by, 19-27
- Picabia, Francis, in United States, 24
- Picasso, Pablo: and hermetic Cubism, 2; and abstract art, 3-4; and primitive art, 6; and communism, 8-9; and the

- museum, 11; new materials in, 11; and public recognition, 12; and artistic anonymity, 13
- Politics: and the artist, 9-11; and the American Abstract Artists, 41-42; of the Abstract Expressionists, 98-99
- Pollock, Jackson: shown at Art of This Century, 57, 10; on the experience of painting, 59; and ideas of John Dewey, 59, 61-62; on the self as subject matter, 71; figurative subjects of, 71; Portrait and a Dream, 72; on the role of music in art, 71-72; on the role of nature in art, 73-74; the experiments in technique of, 79; on accident in painting, 79, 80, 171-172 n.50; Totem Lesson II, 85; and myth, 84, 173 n.64; and Jungian analysis, 84-86; and action, 87; and reason, 88; Mural, 92; on pictorial space, 90-93, 174 n.92; use of materials, 95-97; on previous American painting, 94-95; the influence of, 104-105; and the role of the unconscious, 171 n.42
- Pop art, 147-148; the use of objects in, 124; the development of, 145
- Positivism: Comte as father of, 1; and reason, 5-6
- Post Painterly Abstraction, exhibition of, 146
- Primitive art: as vehicle of anti-rationalism, 6; Surrealist use of, 52; in a museum context, 61; influence on Abstract Expressionism, 68, 81-86; and Arshile Gorky, 75; Barnett Newman's use of, 100
- Purity: Piet Mondrian on, 45; in Abstract Expressionism, 75-77; in the art of the sixties, 121-122, 137, 146; and Ad Reinhardt, 141-143
- Rauschenberg, Robert: Erased de Kooning, 103; on objects, 104; on chance, 111; and Josef Albers, 114; role in 'first Happening,' 115; on John Cage, 115; on art and life, 118; on materials, 121; on seeing, 122, 123; on alienation, 125, 182 n.85
- Reason: Piet Mondrian on, 42-43, 76; Surrealist rejection of, 52, and Abstract Expressionism, 71, 73-74, 79-80, 87, 88-89; Robert Motherwell on, 87; in the art of Josef Albers, 129-130, 131; Gyorgy Kepes on, 135; in the work of Barnett Newman and Richard Lippold, 137-139; Ad Reinhardt on, 140-141; and emotion, 148-151
- Reed Club, John, and sponsorship of Socialist art, 27-28
- Regionalism: attacks on, 41; and John Dewey, 61-62; in the forties, 94-95
- Reinhardt, Ad: rejects Abstract Expressionism, 135-137; the ideas of, 139-144; on Stuart Davis, 139-140; on art and life, 140; on the museum, 140; on reason, 140-141; Abstract Painting, 142
- Representational art, 44-45
- Romanticism, contemporary, 150-151
- Rosenberg, Harold: and Partisan Review, 28; and Surrealist myth, 51-52; and Marxism, 52; on art and life, 60, 117, and existentialism, 63-64; on Abstract Expressionist mysticism, 74; and Surrealist automatism, 76; on the existential space of Abstract Expressionism, 90; on 'action painting,' 93-94; on politics and Abstract Expressionism, 98; on alienation, 125
- Rothko, Mark: and early Abstract Expressionism, 58; and the tragic, 63; on mythology, 84; on pictorial space, 89-90; and the museum, 101-102; on the monumental canvas, 174 n.90
- Rozzak, Theodore, on primitive art, 82
- Rowan, Edward B., on American scene painting, 28-29
- Ryder, Albert P., influence on Marsden Hartley, 22
- Ryerson, Margery, and Robert Henri's Art Spirit, 17-18
- Salon,* revolt against the, 8-9
- Salon d'Automne:* and the Fauves, 9; and the Armory Show, 18
- Salon des Indépendants:* exhibits Neo-Impressionists, 9; and the Armory Show, 18
- Salon des Refusés, 9
- Sartre, Jean-Paul, and Abstract Expressionism, 63-64
- Satie, Erik, The Rise of Medusa, 114
- Schlegel, Friedrich, and the Gesamtkunstwerk, 10
- Schwainsky, Xanti, at Black Mountain College, 114
- Schwitters, Kurt: and artistic freedom, 8; use of new materials, 11, 121; and artistic anonymity, 13; environments of, 108-109; on art and life, 117
- Science, and Piet Mondrian, 42-43
- Seeing: importance of, 22; John Cage on, 110-122; in art of the sixties, 122-123; Josef Albers on, 130, 182-183 n.7

- Segal, George: on figurative subject matter, 105-106; The Bar, 107; space in the works of, 119-120; the materials of 121-122; and audience participation, 122-123
- Seligmann, Kurt: on American space, 47; on Surrealist space, 54
- Severini, Gino, and artistic patriotism, 7
- Sheeler, Charles, on the eternal, 20
- 'Silence,' John Cage on, 110-112
- Sloan, John, connection with Masses, 27
- Smith, David: on abstraction, 71-72; on iron and steel, 97, 137-139; on Surrealism, 137; Cubi XXVIII, 138
- Smithson, Robert, on earth sculpture, 148-149
- Space, pictorial: expansiveness of, 33-34; Hans Hofmann on, 38; Piet Mondrian on, 43; Surrealist attitudes toward, 53-55; in Abstract Expressionism, 68, 89-93; flatness of, 69; influence of Jackson Pollock upon later, 105; and the Happening, 118-119; in art of the sixties, 119, 148-149; Clement Greenberg on, 146
- Space, American, 45-50; Max Ernst on, 45; Piet Mondrian on, 45; Surrealist reaction to, 47-50
- Socialism, 27; and the American Abstract Artists, 41-42; and Surrealism, 50-51, 51-52
- Société Anonyme, 25-27
- Society of Independent Artists, role in Armory Show, 25
- Spirituality: in art, 2-3; attacks upon, 3; in American twentieth century art, 20-21; and Hans Hofmann, 38-40; and Abstract Expressionism, 67-68, 73-75; and Josef Albers, 129-130
- Stankiewicz, Richard, on the mystery of objects, 106
- Stein, Leo, on the mural tradition, 19; on action, 19
- Stella, Joseph: on action, 31; Brooklyn Bridge, 31
- Stieglitz, Alfred: and Photo-Secession Gallery artists, 20; and spirituality, 20; search for 'equivalents' in photography, 21-22; on knowledge, 23; apoliticism of, 27; on action, 34-36
- Still, Clyfford: on the role of nature in art, 69; attitude toward museums, 101-102; on use of myth, 172 n.52
- Story, William Wetmore, on American subjects, 16
- Structure, Piet Mondrian emphasizes, 43
- Subject matter: American, 16-17, 94-95; representational, 20-21, 44-45, 105-106, 147; conservative, 22; abstraction, 22; public works art project influence on, 28-29; urban American, 33-34; and regionalism, 61-62; artist's self as, 69; Abstract Expressionist, 60, 67-73, 77, 86, 99; and the emotions, 60, 86-88; the object as, 123
- Surrealism: anti-rational bias of, 5-6; in America, 38; attacks on, 41; and American space, 47-50; in the thirties, 50-55; automatic writing and painting, 51; uses of mythology in, 51-53; and dream imagery, 52; and Jung, 52-53; and Abstract Expressionism, 67-68; the iconography of, 77; automatism and, 77; and loneliness, 101; in the art of environment, 106; the objet trouvé of, 122; the influence of, on David Smith, 137; Ad Reinhardt attacks, 139-140
- Symbolism: American antipathy toward, 60; de Kooning's use of, 82-84
- Technology: and Abstract Expressionism, 73-74; Arshile Gorky on, 74-75; at the New Bauhaus, 131-135; Kepes on, 183-184 n.23
- "Ten," the, 80-81
- Thoreau, Henry David, and American speech, 16
- Tobey, Mark: and nature mysticism, 74; on twentieth century Romanticism and Classicism, 150-151
- Transcendentalism, nineteenth century, 16-18
- Tworokov, Jack: and the 'Club', 62; defines Abstract Expressionism, 67-68; on automatism, 80; on spontaneity, 87-88
- Urban life: Piet Mondrian on, 45; Fernand Léger on, 45-47
- Van de Velde, Henry, and William Morris, 12
- Wagner, Richard, the Gesamtkunstwerk of, 10
- Weber, Max: Essays on Art, 20; and the spiritual, 20; on verbalizing, 22; on primitive art, 23
- Weischel, Dr. John, founder of People's Art Guild, 27
- Whitman, Walt: and American diction, 16-17; and American individualism, 17
- Wood, Grant, use of collage materials, 24,

160 n.57
Works Progress Administration: murals, 15-16; attitude on subject matter, 28-29
World War One, anxieties resulting from, 13-14
World War Two, Piet Mondrian on, 42-43

Zeitgeist, artistic expressions of, 1
Zen Buddhism: in Abstract Expressionism, 73-74; and John Cage, 109-110; and the Happening, 109, 109-110
Zorach, William: on the spiritual, 20; on imitation, 21-22